Penalties and Interest. Either or both may be imposed under the following conditions:

- ◆ Failure to file a return and pay tax due on or before the due date;

Reporting Changes or Corrections. Use Amended Nebraska Financial Institution Tax Return, Form 1120XNE, for the tax year corresponding to the return being amended.

NOTE: A refund of tax is only allowed when an amended return is filed within 90 days of the date the tax is due or was paid, whichever is later, or within 90 days of a change made by a state or federal regulatory agency.

When filing an amended return to reflect corrected Call Report information, attach copies of the changed pages from the Call Report. Accounting Methods. The accounting method required by state and federal regulatory agencies must be used for Nebraska financial institution tax purposes. Income and expenses of a financial institution must be computed according to the requirements of its regulatory agencies.

Multistate Financial Institutions. Financial institutions that are subject to tax in more than one state must compute their tax liability based on the amount of average deposits connected with the financial institution's operations in Nebraska. These deposits equal the total deposits accepted at the financial institution's Nebraska offices, plus deposits solicited from Nebraska residents that are accepted at the financial institution's offices outside of Nebraska. The financial institution's limitation amount is computed using the portion of the net financial income that is apportioned to Nebraska using property and payroll factors.
